

Integrated Quality, Feed Safety and Environment Protection Policy

Pannonia Ethanol Zrt. produces and trades with ethanol and feed (DDGS, WDGS, distillers corn oil) from corn.

We introduced and continuously improve our quality management, environmental management and sustainability as well as our HACCP feed safety system whereas feed is part of the food production chain.

We state that all of our employees are responsible for the quality, the environmental protection, and the work- and feed safety. We believe that the quality, the safety and the environmental protection arises from thinking.

We consider the quality, the safety and the environmental protection an integral part of the production. During the production we aspire to use the best available technology to reach our target quality, safety, and level environmental protection and to keep track of them steadily. The continuous development and the latest first-class quality technology and the usage of the best environmental techniques, the feed safety methods are integral to our efficient operation with the minimization of the expenses.

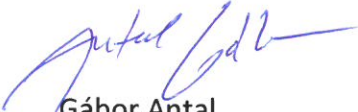

We are conscious that attainment of our goals depends on our employees. We believe that we can only assure the high quality of our products through consistent improvement to meet the expectations of our customer and owners. Therefore we try to help our employees' continuing professional development with continuous trainings and our emphasis on teamwork.

We are aware of our liability towards our employees and our environment and our everyday activities are informed by this belief. We seek supply of raw materials from sustainable lands and the usage of environmentally-friendly materials during our production and the consistent reduction of our environmental footprint. Our company emphasizes compliance with laws and quality- safety- and environmental protection best practices.

Our company is committed to satisfy our customers' needs and applicable requirements with safe and reliable, premium-quality products and services and improvement of the quality management system. Our purpose is to fulfil our customers' demand to best of our ability.

Good relations with suppliers, authorities, our neighbours and our customers facilitate our efficient operation.

Dunaföldvár, 2nd of Sept. 2019

Gábor Antal
Plant Director